

Dear Vienna Newsletter Subscriber,

We'd like to let you know about the status of our upcoming new product, Synchron Strings I.

We're thrilled that many of you are eagerly anticipating our first string library recorded at Synchron Stage Vienna. And we're thankful that so many of you took advantage of our Early Bird Offer.

As it sometimes happens, things are taking a little longer than expected. We're committed to offering you the best product we can possibly achieve, and we need a bit more time to do so. As soon as the first parts of Synchron Strings I are completed in December, 2017, we'll make them available to you.

We'll continue the current Early Bird Pricing for the time being, and rest assured that we'll communicate our release and pricing schedule in a timely fashion. Thank you for your trust in us as we continue to work on a product that lives up to the very high standards you've come to expect from us.
