New Orchestra Demo by Jay Bacal

If you're wondering how to merge the sound of your existing Vienna Instruments with the sample libraries recorded at Synchron Stage Vienna, here's a great example: Jay Bacal created this impressive rendering of Rachmaninoff's Symphonic Dances \(1st Movement\) with Vienna Instruments placed on Stage A of our new scoring stage using Vienna MIR Pro and Vienna MIR RoomPack 6, along with Synchron Percussion I.

You may download the tutorial files to see for yourself how Jay achieved this outstanding performance. The available download folder includes the MIDI file as well as separate project files for Vienna Ensemble, Vienna Ensemble Pro, Vienna MIR Pro and Cubase.

Please note that this rendering was produced before Synchron Strings I was available, so you hear Orchestral Strings, Appassionata Strings and Solo Strings in this piece.

Best wishes from Vienna,
Your Vienna Symphonic Library Team
