INSTRUMENT OF THE MONTH

Oboe d'Amore

In this new column we'd like to spotlight instruments that are less commonly used in orchestral arrangements, or just instruments that you didn't expect to find in the Vienna Symphonic Library.

Like the oboe and the English horn, the oboe d'amore is a double-reed instrument, covering the mezzo soprano register. The term “d'amore” dates from the Renaissance period and is based on the instrument's warm, lyrical, and mellow sound character that is more comparable with the French horn than the oboe. Although it was commonly used in the Baroque era, the instrument was gradually displaced by the English horn.

You will find the oboe d'amore included in our Special Woodwinds Collection, and you can purchase it separately as a Single Instrument. As with all Single Instruments, you will benefit from upgrade discounts when completing the Collection later.

Best wishes from Vienna,

– Your Vienna Symphonic Library Team
