

VIENNA SYMPHONIC LIBRARY

Dear Vienna Newsletter Subscriber,

We're happy to announce a new groundbreaking library from Vienna.

SYNCHRON STRINGS PRO

This new Collection represents the next generation of sampled string ensembles, fusing artistic expression, a wealth of detailed articulations, natural note transitions and sonic excellence within a resource-friendly, easy-to-use product.

By developing an evolved sampling system our well-rehearsed team of musicians and engineers at Synchron Stage Vienna have succeeded in preserving the supreme artistry of Vienna's brilliant string players. The result elevates these string ensembles to the next level of liveliness and expressive potential. Check out the videos and audio demos!

New articulations such as "agile" legatos for fast performances, portamentos, different attack and release variants and many more were complemented with select articulations from Synchron Strings I for a complete and versatile Collection for every composer. Get it now at the introductory price, starting at €295!

Synchron Stage Vienna

Since its opening in 2015, many international composers and film studio executives were amazed by our facility's outstanding features and possibilities. Hans Zimmer's Remote Control Productions recorded a whole slate of productions, including music for the feature film "Inferno" and the Golden Globe-winning Netflix series "The Crown". Harry Gregson-Williams recorded his score for "The Meg" at Synchron Stage Vienna, Lorne Balfe "Ad Astra", and BBC's "Blue Planet II".

What's more, many orchestral productions for major Chinese, Japanese and South Korean blockbusters were recorded at Synchron Stage. The Wiener Symphoniker and the Vienna Radio Symphony Orchestra were among the ensembles who recently recorded projects here.

Bring the famous Synchron Stage sound to your studio with Synchron Strings Pro!
