

Free Fujara Flute

Hello
VIENNA

Dear Vienna Newsletter Subscriber,

We continue to celebrate our switch to iLok with a special gift for you!

Get your brand-new FREE Instrument!

The fujara is an overtone flute from central Slovakia originally played by shepherds. Living in mountain huts they played these instruments to cope with their solitude and to communicate across the alpine slopes.

The specific construction of the fujara enables the player to create various overtones and effects by altering the blowing pressure, and to play notes using the three tone holes. This mystical instrument brings new soundscapes to your music, from soft meditative tones to energetic outbursts created through various effect techniques, masterfully performed by Veronika Vitazkova.
